AUCTION SALES of Household Furniture, Effects, Works of Art, Plate, Oil Paintings, Pictures, &c., conducted by JOHN G. COHEN.
 Inventories taken at the shortest notice.
Families leaving the colony and others, disposing of their Household Furniture, Effects, &c., are respectfully informed that JOHN G. COHEN continues to undertake sales by auction of such property in all cases where the same is not intended for removal from the premises, and which has formed a portion of his general and extensive business of an auctioneer for more than twenty-one years in this colony.
Liberal advances made in anticipation of proceeds being realised, in all cases when so required, without incurring extra expense to his constituents, who have likewise the advantage of remaining in their houses up to the time of Sale—a facility frequently of great moment to families.
Principals have only to give general instructions in such cases where they do not wish to be on the spot, or are unavoidably absent. Sales effected by private contract when so directed; in either case, every care will be devoted that energy and practical experience can accomplish, to obtain the highest prices for the benefit of his clients.
Referring back to his long and varied experience, combined with a general knowledge of this particular branch of business, JOHN G. COHEN begs to assure those who may honour him with their confidence, that he will continue to devote the same unremitting zeal for the benefit of his constituents that has hitherto marked his career, and which, in connection with his moderate charges, have produced such favourable results, and given general satisfaction to his numerous patrons.

NOTICE.—TO MERCHANTS, IMPORTERS, and OTHERS.
JOHN G. COHEN begs respectfully to remind his numerous friends that he undertakes to sell General Cargoes, Colonial Produce, and Ordinary Merchandise, both by public sale and private contract, and at the same time to remark that the advantages his medium offers are not to be surpassed in the colony.
To provide still further for the various interests confided to his care, the auction rooms have been further enlarged, thus affording increased accommodation and space for the varied description of goods imported to this market.
The SALE ROOM, erected at a vast expense in anticipation of the growing wants of a great and increasing community, is, from its general structure and internal arrangements, combined with the general convenience it affords in all respects, acknowledged to be the most complete and unique in the colony.
In the rear are STORE ROOMS, capacious and secure, capable of receiving more than 3000 tons of merchandise. It is needless to add, that their central position leaves nothing to be desired.
JOHN G. COHEN, in soliciting a continuance of the support with which he has been favoured for more than twenty-one years, begs to assure his various patrons that he will continue to devote the same zeal and interest that has hitherto distinguished his career as Auctioneer and General Agent, and to maintain that large share of confidence he has earned from a discriminating and discerning public.
 Liberal advances made.

GEORGE CHISHOLM has to return his sincere thanks to his friends, customers, and the public of New South Wales, for the liberal support they have given him during his "opening sale" since the dissolution with his late partners, and under the new management.

The attention that his sale has already received is very flattering to himself, and is a sufficient guarantee that "real value" has been given to those who have been purchasers at the sale, and he is confident that the same satisfaction will be felt by those who, either from distance or want of time, have not had an opportunity of doing so.

He would respectfully remind all who may call at his establishment of the very favourable opportunity now offered them of not only supplying their daily wants from a very large and well-selected stock, but purchasing those articles of "substantial comfort" for which his establishment has for so many years been famous.

To "Heads of Families" this sale must have a particular interest, for during these times of depression of trade it behoves all to be careful of their expenditure, and to take every advantage of supplying the wants of a family, at the lowest possible rate.

To Hotel Proprietors, to Farmers, Captains, and all engaged in shipping, this also is a good opportunity for them to replenish, or supply themselves with such goods that they require, as it will be a considerable saving for them to do so at this sale.

He would respectfully enumerate a few of those departments that are well worthy of the attention of those purchasing, and he is confident in saying that for quality of material and lowness of price, there has not been a sale in these colonies where genuine articles can be purchased with so many advantages to the consumer, while the other departments are replete with every article suitable either for a gentleman, a lady, or a family.

IN CONSEQUENCE of the activity of our trade, we have the pleasure of again referring to the quantities of new goods we open daily.

Being individually engaged in the management of the particular departments of our house, we have the opportunity of making our purchases of first-class styles and qualities only. Our experience teaches us that in reference to all the departments of fashion, as Millinery, Mantles, Shawls, Dresses, &c., &c., taste and style are of the highest importance, and govern their value. Inferior styles and qualities are now unsaleable, and almost valueless; in fact, old fashioned things are not suited to the present order of the day. We may also remark that superior beauty of dress at this moment consists in unmistakable simplicity and exquisite taste. A lady-like dress or mantle is distinguishable at once. The mode of business adopted, and the arrangements carried out enable us to exhibit such choice goods in all the departments as that ladies cannot fail to recognise the distinguishing characteristics.

FORD BROTHERS' PATENT WASHING HATS, Victorian Exhibition, 1861, First Class; London International Exhibition, 1862, award for originality and novelty.—Our theory of a hat for a warm climate is that it should be absorbent and ventilating throughout. If it possess these qualities it must be capable of being washed, otherwise it will be speedily destroyed or rendered unfit for wear. The process for rehabilitating the hat must also be so simple that ordinary laundresses can block and press them. Our zinc block makes this easy and certain. The use of these hats subjects the head to to the same healthful conditions as other parts of the body, i. e., cotton and flannel are brought into direct contact with the part covered. The body of the hat consists of five to seven wove materials, of which one is all wool flannel, the external material being linen. The luxury to the wearer is such that any person adopting them will not readily be persuaded to wear any other. Their colour is so adapted to all styles of men that in summer it is as becoming as black is at all other seasons, while their durability is so great that with ordinary care they must wear two or three times as long as any other hat made. In view of these desirable qualities we confidently expect these hats with Australians will become national.

Directions for washing, blocking, and pressing:
The size of both hat and block is marked on them. The hats are to be washed in the tub, not on the block, and should be scalded, not boiled, then stiffen them with white starch, and draw them hard down on the block; dry them in the sun; when nearly dry strip them from the block and pull them down again till dry, then rub more starch into the brim and press the brim only on the top side while warm from the iron, set the brim in the shape preferred. The helmet should be pressed from the under side. The sonave is blocked on the explorer block, and the peak pulled out, the curtain only being ironed. These instructions are sufficient to render a laundress expert with one or two trials.

COALS, Brose, Firewood, and Charcoal, in any quantity, cheap. DEARIN'S, Pacific Wharf, Druitt-street.

COALS.—Try the Anvil Creek Coal, a very superior article—nothing to equal it as fuel in the Australian colonies. To be had of THOMAS B. DEARIN, Pacific Wharf, Druitt-street.

COAL, COAL.—Is Colonial equal to best English? Try the Anvil Creek (hitherto called Branxton) coal. This seam, lately opened, is the lowest in the geological series of any yet discovered, and possesses properties peculiar to itself—viz., great heating powers, very little smoke and ash, and no clinker whatever. As a household coal, it stands unrivalled, and is pronounced by those who have used it for steam and gas purposes the best the colony has yet produced—one ton being equal to one ton and a third of the hitherto best colonial. From its hardness, it will stand any amount of knocking about, and needs only a trial to be used by all who study comfort, cleanliness, and economy. To be had, in any quantity, from WARBURTON and SON, sole agents, Pyrmont Wharf.

COAL, CHEAP COAL, GOOD COAL.—WARBURTON and SON are selling as under:—
Best Newcastle coal, from 25s. per ton of 2240 lbs; Branxton (equal to best English), 30s.; and stove coal, as usual.

Three boats had arrived in Moreton Bay, and four boats were still missing, belonging to the Sporting Lass. The Susannah Godfrey, German emigrant ship, anchored in Moreton Bay when the Clarence left.

The Comet left Keppel Bay on the 16th instant, and has had very heavy southerly gales the latter part of the passage. A barque was sighted on the 23rd instant, off Port Stephens, going north.

The Alexandra (s.), with a general cargo and sheep, bound for New Zealand, arrived yesterday, having called in to fill up with coals. She will leave again forthwith.

CAPTAIN HENRY O'REILLY.—This gentleman, who for so many years has been connected with the A. S. N. Company, finally relinquished the command of the steamship Telegraph yesterday, proceeding by her as a passenger, to take the position as agent for the A. S. N. Co. at Brisbane. Few men have rendered themselves so deservedly popular as Captain O'Reilly. The kind and gentlemanly conduct that he has ever evinced to the thousands that have travelled with him has gained him the respect and esteem of all, and we feel assured that, although he has retired from an active sea life, the cordial good wishes of hosts of friends will follow him in his new vocation. Soon after settling in this colony, he joined the company as marine superintendent—in which capacity he was succeeded by Captain Munro; he then took command of the Boomerang and other steamers running on the Northern line, and for the last few years has had command of the Telegraph, one of the finest and fastest steamers in the colonies. While in this trade he has made no less than 320 passages without meeting with an accident. Captain O'Reilly joined the merchant service in 1839, and has been eighteen years in command of steamships, and holds an extra first-class master's certificate from the Trinity Board.

THE STONYHURST LOSS.—This vessel, whose loss is reported in yesterday's publication, was the joint property of Captain Bennet and Mr. M'Dougal, and we understand is fully insured. Captain Bennet was formerly owner and master of the schooner Prince of Denmark, the particulars of whose wreck, and subsequent arrival of the crew in a small boat built on the reef, will be fresh in the recollection of our readers.

To Henry Richards, Esq., M.D. and William Moore, Esq., Captain, of the ship John Vanner.

Gentlemen,—We the emigrants on board the ship John Vanner, who have been so kindly treated by you during our long voyage from Plymouth, feel great pleasure in expressing to you in an humble address our heartfelt and most grateful thanks for your persevering attention to us on all occasions during the voyage, your parental solicitude in arranging everything for our greater comfort, especially when sick, and your humane and philanthropic justice in settling our little disputes and disquietudes.

Gentlemen, you were always at our side when danger, by us, was apprehended, to console us in our sorrows, and to alleviate our distresses; so that we look back to our voyage with venerated regret and pleasure, regret, because we are soon to separate from your tender care, and our kind benefactors; and pleasure, because—thanks to Heaven and to your persevering energy—we are anchored safe and sound in Sydney harbour, and over the crashing horrors of the yawning deep.

And sorry we are that our limited resources could not admit of our accompanying this humble, but grateful and sincere address, with a suitable testimonial, worthy of your kindness and eminent services. But, if our means are inadequate, our prayers—and "the prayers of the poor availeth much"—will be certainly offered up, with a hope that the Divine Disposer of Events may reward you in a more worthy manner. And once more assuring you, gentlemen, how sensible we are of your prompt and kind attention to us on all occasions, we conclude by wishing you a long life and a happy eternity.

Signed, on behalf of the emigrants, by M. H. Fox, chief constable on board the John Vanner.

To Mr. Henry Richards.

The female emigrants of the ship John Vanner sincerely wish to thank their kind doctor for his particular attention towards them during the voyage, in sending them every sort of medical and physical attention when required; and also in seeing the healthy passengers treated in every way according to the orders of Government, for which they feel truly grateful, and will pray that God may carry him safe back to Old England again, and endow him with health and a long life, and a glorious immortality hereafter.

Signed this November 20th.

We the female emigrants of the ship John Vanner beg leave to return our sincere thanks to Captain Moore, for his particular care of us during our voyage from England to Sydney. In every way that a fatherly hand could protect us, he always showed himself. We beg to present him with a written acknowledgment of his kindness, as a small tribute of affection towards him, with our earnest prayers that the Almighty may bring him safe from every danger, and at last bring him and his honoured wife to that eternal port of rest, where the billows will no more foam.

Written this day, 20th of November, 1863, by the female emigrants; one hundred and three who should feel most happy to give their names if requisite, all join with a hearty amen.

On board the John Vanner, November 20th, 1863.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1863.

IN the Legislative Assembly yesterday,

Numerous questions were put to Ministers, of which the following is the substance of the replies given:—That plans had been prepared for the promised new Post and Telegraph Office at Tamworth, and that tenders would be invited when the Estimates were passed; that no new contract had been entered into for the completion of the telegraph office at Murrurundi, and that, in consequence of the work having been at a standstill since February last, the contract had been taken out of the contractor's hands; that it was not the intention of the Government to bring in a bill with reference to the Church and School Estates, in accordance with the resolution of the Assembly on the 25th July last; that in no instance has interest been paid upon the value of land taken for railway purposes, and that it was not the intention of the Government to pay such interest to persons whose land had been taken, but not paid for, on the Blacktown, Windsor, and Richmond line of railway; that it was not the intention of the Government to bring in a bill to make permanent provision for the Sydney branch of the Royal Mint; that the Government had not made any compromise with the contractor for the Pitnacree Bridge, but an arrangement could be made without any difficulty, that permission to sue the Government had never been asked for by the contractor, and that the materials for the Pitnacree Bridge were available for the proposed bridge at the Falls; that there was no intention to cancel the contract for the Dunmore Bridge; that the Government would probably make alterations in the government and organisation of the police, and that the House should from time to time be informed of any proposed alterations; that the Government proposed to establish Money Order Offices at Adamstown and Kiandra, as proposed by the superintendent, but no such recommendation had been made with reference to Bobenaba.

The Colonial Sugar Refining Company's Bill passed through committee.

The House then went into committee on the Seamen's Laws Amendment and Consolidation Bill.

All the clauses of the bill, except the tenth, were agreed to with some unimportant amendments. The tenth clause was struck out, and three new clauses relative to discipline were added.

A long discussion arose with reference to the scale of fees given in the third schedule for matters transacted at the Shipping Office, but the schedule, as originally framed, was ultimately agreed to.

The bill was reported, and the third reading fixed for Friday next.

The House then went into committee upon the Scab in Sheep Prevention Bill.

The first four clauses were postponed.

Upon the 5th clause being proposed,

Mr. ROBERTSON pointed out his objections to the measure, stating that he doubted the propriety or expediency of the Legislature interfering in this matter at all, but at all events he considered that the proposed scheme of municipal representation among flockowners was less eligible than that of inspectors appointed by the Government. Mr. MORRIS defended the bill, and contended that the system of representation proposed in the bill would have the effect of inducing the persons interested to manage for themselves their local affairs instead of depending upon Government on all occasions. The flockowners were the persons who were to provide the contribution, and it was only just to give them a voice in their own affairs. Mr. WILSON expressed his approval of this bill. After some further discussion the clause was agreed to.

All the remaining clauses, except the 44th, were agreed to, with some unimportant amendments. The 44th clause, empowering the Treasurer to pay moneys out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, was discussed at some length, and the clause was ultimately agreed to, with the addition of a proviso proposed by Mr. EAGAR, limiting the authority to sums not exceeding £2000.

The bill was reported, and the third reading fixed for Thursday next.

The House adjourned at twenty minutes to twelve.

IF our readers could turn back to those discussions which took place when Mr. ROBERTSON introduced his precious Land Bill, they would find in some of the articles which appeared in this journal an exact and particular forecast of what has transpired. Do we on that account claim the distinction of remarkable prescience? Not at all. The thing that hath been, said the wisest man, shall be, and there is nothing new under the sun. All we did was to take the guidance of the past the experience of other countries, and the history of our own. All we had to do was to turn back to our old gazettes, to examine the operation of former land systems, and to see how far the new measure was but a reproduction, or how far the altered circumstances of the country would render that mischievous which in our earlier experience would have been of small account. Taking these facts as our guide, we pointed out the inevitable operation of Mr. ROBERTSON's scheme, and, excepting those who resolutely refuse to recognise the truth, no one will venture to deny that, whether for good or ill, things have happened precisely as was foretold. We have no intention to dispute that there are many cases throughout the country where men have acquired land with the disposition to use it well, and that the easy terms upon which they have obtained it may ultimately benefit their families. But we have not in public matters to deal with exceptional cases, or to regard the effect of a measure in securing personal advantage, if upon the whole the country is injured. It may be the individuals benefited form but a small proportion of the whole affected; and especially the benefit they have obtained in a disastrous form might have been secured without compromising the public well-being or creating evils of a formidable nature. Having gone, however, so far, it is impossible absolutely to retrace our steps. The past must be adjusted; it cannot be revoked. We have sacrificed great revenue, and we may be unable be retrieve it. We have given occasion for innumerable disputes, and it may not be possible to adopt the precautions by which they might have been averted. We have stimulated agriculture where there has been no capital, and brought ruin upon many ignorant but industrious people; but we cannot now repair the waste or supply the want which our own measures have occasioned.

What now is the state of these free selectors? The law has given the storekeeper a lien upon their crops. Had the season spared them, it would at least have abated their indebtedness; but they have taken up land, they have expended all their means in useless cultivation, and now destitution has rushed in upon them like an armed man. Their cornstalks are grainless. Their fields are unproductive. Poverty has beset them all around. The credit of the storekeeper is exhausted. Many are now subsisting upon such scanty and coarse resources as would have created the utmost indignation if offered as the rations of servants. In a normal condition the land-owner is a man of capital. He can give employment to labour and take the chance of the seasons and the markets. If a loss falls upon him he can wait for better days. But what is to become of that class of persons who, leaving settled employments and comfortable service, have ventured their all upon an impossible scheme, excepting under improbable conditions of prosperity. Any Government that stimulates agriculture, or any other pursuit, by artificial means is running the greatest possible risk of mischief hereafter. Most of these holdings are loaded with conditions. The parties who have taken up the land must remain upon it; they cannot transfer it—they cannot mortgage it; but their interests will compel them to evade the law, and the Government will be obliged to connive at that evasion! All the checks, therefore, which were imposed to prevent the abuse of free selection are broken down. The capitalist has known how, by the assistance of his servants and in names of his relatives, to obtain large advantages in some districts from a system which was professedly designed to exclude him. Every one foresaw this. It was foretold with the accuracy of historical description. How it would be effected was stated with the formality of a parchment deed. It is done, and the Government is not in a condition to interfere without creating worse mischief, and producing all sorts of demoralisation. The poor man, however, whom it was intended to benefit, is the most disappointed and the most to be pitied. There is indeed a class who have taken advantage of it, and whose predatory pursuits will soon make one part of the country uninhabitable, and create a state of social war before which all capital must recede and all enterprise fail.

These are the fruits of Mr. ROBERTSON's system. In vain he takes credit for some purchases of land which may be legitimate, and which would have occurred under the old law without any of the embarrassments of the new. Generally, the free selection scheme has proved a miserable failure to individuals excepting to those who have abused it, and will have prepared a harvest of rural quarrels, as well as lawsuits without end. The wisest thing the Parliament could do would be to recognise all the existing alienations of land under the Land Law, and to endeavour to prevent for the future the evils which have already arisen. Our Treasury is exhausted,—defrauded of that very fund which would have been sufficient in its normal state to prevent our financial embarrassment. What now should be done is to compromise with all these new interests—to offer to every man the fee simple of his land provided the £1 be promptly paid, and to stop for ever a system which has multiplied the creditors of Government and the partizans of repudiation. If this were done, although we could not hope to recover more than a proportion of the money due upon alienated land, perhaps £100,000 might be paid—a sum not to be despised in our present financial condition. We should lessen the number of those interested in refusing payment, and in that agitation which will be fatal to the return of any honest man to the House—one who will stand by the claims of the State, and who will pledge himself to enforce them. It is now possible to repair the evil done—possible to remedy in part that grievous mischief which has been inflicted by this shameful measure. We are told, indeed, that it is extremely popular. No doubt, those who have taken advantage of it will praise it, and we do not expect men to renounce their own personal interests. We rather expect that their loud vociferation in commending a scheme injurious only to the public, and apparently beneficial to themselves, will overpower the silent discontent of those who see the public suffer but are not specially called to step forward for its protection. What we should try to do is to quiet all existing claims; to withdraw all impossible conditions; to hasten as much as possible the payment for land alienated by the Crown—to lessen the public creditors who may seek to acquit themselves by means of their votes or their debts to the State; and, above all, to prevent that system by which we are scattering population over the country who rapidly degenerate into ignorance and crime, and which no police or education or ecclesiastical apparatus can ever overtake or prevent from degenerating into barbarism. Such is the state of things patent to the eyes of all who traverse the country. Mr. ROBERTSON may utterly disregard all these considerations, because he treats, and probably considers as cant, everything which Englishmen are accustomed to look upon as essential to the good order of society and the well-being of the rising race; but surely we have had enough of him and of his bill. We firmly believe the time is not far distant when the whole colony will claim a reform which may bring back our land system to something like wholesome principles, with an apparatus which may cure those objections for which there was some just complaint. As to the conditions, no one knows better than Mr. ROBERTSON that they never can be enforced. We understand that a correspondence has passed between this amateur lawyer and the lawyers in whose hands is the administration of the Torrens Act. There has been anxiety to know whether the new law revives the conditions of the old grant system—equally legal in their form, equally stringent, and which would affect the titles of one-half of the old grants in the country, and whether the new conditions have been imposed in vain. To these difficult questions Mr. ROBERTSON has given his usual answer, but it is not one that can in any way settle a legal difficulty. This correspondence would really serve the country just now by showing the deliberate opinions of men holding a judicial position in reference to the character of those conditions upon which old Crown grants are held, and the bearings of the whole system of oblivion and repudiation upon the new.

THE scheme for the military colonisation of New Zealand is fully expounded in a Parliamentary paper, laid before the General Assembly. It is proposed to introduce twenty thousand adult males as military settlers, of whom two thousand are to be drawn from Australia, and eighteen thousand from the mother country. The mere addition of such a number to the European population would give it preponderant weight, as compared with the numbers of the native population. But it is in the distribution of the military settlers, rather than in their mere numbers, that the benefit of their presence is to be sought. If they can be so placed as to form a frontier guard to cover existing settlers, and also to extend over a large area of the most available land, the work of colonisation may safely advance till it altogether overshadows the Maori element. In the absence of such protection colonisation cannot advance. Those who have already acquired property in the colony may be willing to take up arms to protect their homesteads, but while so many inviting lands are open to the emigrant, few, except in the prospect of special advantages, will be found to choose a home where there is daily danger of hostile attack, and where the rifle as well as the axe will be in constant requisition. But non-military settlers will take up their land in confidence when they know that between them and the natives there is a frontier protecting guard. It was long ago pointed out in the Herald that the only solution of the New Zealand difficulty was to borrow a hint from the old Romans, and thoroughly to dominate the country by intersecting roads and military settlements. This is the only efficient plan. To attempt to do without it is to expose the colony to the expense and injury of a long and desolating guerilla warfare. On Imperial as well as on colonial grounds it is expedient that the native difficulty should not be allowed to become chronic, but should be definitively settled with the least possible delay.

Gold has proved the greatest coloniser of modern times. If the New Zealand Government could only discover a rich gold-field in the heart of the Waikato country, and direct to it such a stream of population as has set in to Otago, it would solve all these difficulties at once. A large European population would be immovably established just at the most convenient place; and as the land is forfeited by the natives, there would be no legal difficulty in the way of selling it. But in the absence of a gold rush to the right spot, the Government must import the necessary population and pay for the process by the alienation of land.

The plan of roads which in itself is considered the best, would be to make two main trunk lines—one running from Auckland across the island in a south-easterly direction to Napier, and the other running from the Bay of Plenty across the island in a south-westerly direction to Wanganui. If these two roads, which would intersect each other near the central lake Taupo, were supplemented by branch roads to the coast, the native tribes would be so isolated that any combined movement amongst them would be impossible. This plan, however, though the most complete, is abandoned as too expensive for the present, though it is kept in view for ultimate realization. The trunk roads would require to be protected by military settlements along their entire length, and these strips of land in the centre of the island would be very available, while concentrated defence would be difficult. It is proposed, therefore, to concentrate the military settlers mainly in the Taranaki and Auckland provinces. Auckland will be defended against Waikato incursions by a belt of military settlers stretching across the island, from Tauranga on the Bay of Plenty on the east coast, to Whangaroa on the west coast. This line is not to run straight across, but curving southwards towards the sources of the Waikato. As an additional precaution, settlements are also to be made down the river to its mouth, but even in the absence of these, the belt across the island would cut off the lower Waikatos from the natives to the south.

Taranaki is to be protected by a line of settlements along the coast, all round the Cape Egmont promontory, and by a line running north and south from sea to sea in the rear of Mount Egmont. From the northern termination of this line near Warwick, there is to be a line of settlement along the crest of Whanganui and Manawatu. This appears to be the weakest part of the system, as it is a long thin line. It is capable certainly of easy succour from the sea, but it is open at any point to attack from the rear. The land, however, is said to be temptingly fine. A small number of settlements are to be posted in the rear of the Napier country, and a few on the road from Napier to Wellington. None of these settlements would be at an inaccessible distance inland. All the centre of the island, and all the North-eastern peninsula, would be unoccupied, but there would be one military road right across from Auckland to Napier, though for a considerable portion of its length it would be unguarded. It is proposed that each settlement shall consist of a hundred men, and that the settlements should not be much more than a mile apart. The total length of road to be made is about a thousand miles. The average cost is estimated at about £1500 a mile, so that for road making alone a million and a half sterling will be required. The expense of importing each immigrant is £15, and if to this is added the expense of a due proportion of wives and children, and the outlay for arms and accoutrements, the expense on this score is calculated at about £700,000. Then there are the very heavy expenses of the war to be met, calculated at a million sterling. There are also outstanding obligations to the amount of half a million, for which a loan has been sanctioned, though not raised. To meet all possible claims, therefore, it is proposed to raise a loan of four millions. This is a large sum for so small a colony to face, but it is anticipated that an Imperial guarantee will admit of its being raised at four per cent.

In the Waikato and Thames districts, and in Taranaki, there is available land to the amount of nearly three million acres. After retaining for the use of the natives an ample portion—more, perhaps, than they ever have cultivated or probably ever will cultivate, and after providing for the free grants to the military settlers, there will remain a million and a-half acres for sale. This, it is thought, may be disposed of gradually in fifteen years.

Calculated according to the current value of land in New Zealand, it is an undue estimate to suppose that half of it would realise two pounds an acre, and the other half a pound an acre. But the sale of this land is confidently calculated on to redeem at least two millions of the debt. The rest it is proposed to extinguish in instalments from the surplus of the annual revenue. Such is an outline of the scheme as prepared by the late Ministry. It is based on sound principles, and, if it can only be carried out, cannot fail of being successful.

NEW SOUTH WALES PARLIAMENT.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27.

THE SPEAKER took the chair at twenty-four minutes past three o'clock.

GOVERNMENT BALANCES.

MR. FIDDINGTON desired to ask the Colonial Treasurer—"What is the amount of the cash balances to the credit of the Government, on the 23rd of November, 1863, in the various banks and in the Treasury, specifying separately:—1. Consolidated revenue fund. 2. Loans. 3. Assessment on sheep. 4. Church and School land fund. 5. Lodgments (excluding police reward and superannuation fund)?"

MR. EAGAR said he should be glad if his hon. friend would postpone or withdraw his question, pending the financial statement which he (Mr. E.) purposed making in Committee of Ways and Means on Wednesday next, as it would not be conducive to the public interest that by answering his hon. friend's question now, a partial disclosure should be made of the state of the finances unaccompanied by all those relative facts and explanations which it would be his duty to submit to the House, on the occasion of his making the statement referred to.

MR. BURDEKIN asked the Secretary for Public Works, "What progress has been made with the arrangements for the promised new post and telegraph offices at Tamworth?"

MR. HOLROYD said that plans had been prepared, and tenders would be invited, as soon as the estimates were passed.

MURRURUNDI.

MR. DANGAR desired to ask the secretary for Public Works,—"1. If a new contract has been entered into for the completion of the telegraph-office at Murrurundi, through the non-performance of Mr. Tarlo's contract? 2. Is the Government aware that nothing has been done to this contract for nine months past, and that the unfinished building is going to decay, and the materials on the ground spoiled?"

MR. HOLROYD said that no new contract had been entered into, but tenders for the completion of the building had been received, and were now under consideration. The Government were aware that nothing had been done to this work since February last, and that the work had necessarily suffered in consequence, and this had caused them to take the works out of the late contractor's hands.

CHURCH AND SCHOOL LANDS.

Captain MORIARTY wished to ask the Hon the Premier, "Is it the intention of the Government to bring in a bill this session to give legislative effect to the resolutions affirmed by this House on the 25th July last, a.m., relative to the Church and School Estates, viz.:—'That in the opinion of this House, the Church and School Estates ought to be sold by auction at the earliest possible period that they can be conveniently disposed of, and that the proceeds thereof appropriated for the purposes of religion and the education of youth in the colony, in terms of the grant made by the Crown to the Trustees of Clergy and School Lands in New South Wales, such proceeds to be divided rateably among the different religious denominations.' (2.) That an address be presented to His Excellency the Governor, with the foregoing resolution, and intimating the further opinion of this House that no appropriation of such proceeds should be made for any purpose whatever until an Act of Parliament shall have been passed to authorize the same?"

MR MARTIN said it was not the intention of the Government to bring in this session such a bill as that the hon. and gallant member referred to.

MR. EGAN: Somebody else will then.

WINDSOR RAILWAY.

MR. CUNNEEN desired to ask the Secretary for Public Works, "Has interest been paid in any instance upon the value of land by Railway purposes, from the time such land was taken, until the owner received payment for the same? (2.) Is it the intention of the Government to pay such interest to persons whose land has been taken (but not paid for) on the Blacktown, Windsor, and Richmond line of Railway?"

MR. HOLROYD said that in no case had interest been paid on the value of land taken for railway purposes; nor was it the intention of the Government to pay interest on the value of the land taken for the Windsor and Richmond line.

THE MINT.

MR. WEEKES asked the Colonial Treasurer, "Whether it is the intention of the Government, during the present session, to introduce a bill to make permanent provision for the Sydney Branch of the Royal Mint?"

MR. EAGAR said that the Government, in their present view as to the duration of the session upon us, contemplate introducing a bill of the kind.

PITNACREE BRIDGE.

MR. DANGAR wished to ask the Secretary for Public Works, "1. If the contract has been made, or intend to suggest a compromise with Mr. Bell, contractor for the Pitnacree Bridge? 2. Is it the Mr. Bell has permission to sue the Government for the loss he will sustain from the discontinuance of the contract? 3. Cannot the materials for the Pitnacree Bridge be made available for the Bridge on the Falls, Wood and Gutheridge?"

MR. HOLROYD said that the Government had not made any compromise with the contractor, but in all probability an arrangement would be come to. Mr. Bell had never asked for permission to sue the Government; and the materials for the Pitnacree Bridge could be made available for the Great Maitland.

DUNMORE BRIDGE.

MR. DANGAR asked the Secretary for Public Works, "If the Government have cancelled, or do intend to cancel, the contract for the bridge at Dunmore?"

MR. HOLROYD said the Government had not cancelled the contract, and had no intention of so doing.

THE POLICE.

MR. BUCHANAN desired to ask the Colonial Secretary, "Do Ministers intend introducing any alterations in the government and organization of the Police; and, if so, will they inform the House the nature thereof?"

MR. FORSTER said the Government did propose making alterations in the system of police management. The nature and extent of these alterations had not been finally decided on. They would not be sudden or violent, and, therefore, although the House would be informed of them from time to time, by the publication of regulations or otherwise, it is scarcely possible at present to give such information in a definite shape.

MONEY ORDER OFFICES.

MR. GARRETT wished to ask the Colonial Treasurer, "Whether it is the intention of the Government to extend the advantages of the Post Office Money Order System to the following localities in the district of Monaro, viz.:—Adaminy, Kiandra, and Bobundra; the two first of which have been recommended by the Post Office Money Order Superintendent?"

MR. EAGAR said that with regard to the two first named places they had been recommended, and a post-office money-order office would be established there; but no recommendation had been made in favour of the third place, and nothing would be done.

THE INSOLVENT COURT.

MR. DANGAR wished to ask the Premier, without notice, whether he would have any objection to lay on the table of the House, the memorial presented to him by certain mercantile gentlemen of Sydney, recommending the removal from office of the Chief Commissioner in Insolvency.

MR. MARTIN said he had no objection to lay the document on the table.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

On the motion from MR. EAGAR, the message from the Governor, presented by him yesterday, was ordered to be printed.

MR. WILSON brought up a message from the Governor, recommending the payment out the of Consolidated Revenue of the money of any sums of money that might become necessary to be paid for the cure of scab in sheep.

Ordered to be printed.

CARRIERS.

MR. DRIVER brought up a bill to amend the law relating to licensing carriers.

Bill read a first time and ordered to be printed.

DISPATCHES.

MR. W. FORSTER laid upon the table two despatches from the Home Government, one relating to the marriage of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the other to the Military Aid to New Zealand.

Ordered to be printed.

ASSENT TO BILLS.

MR. SPEAKER reported the receipt of a message from his Excellency notifying that assent had been given on behalf of her Majesty to the following bills:—The European Assurance Society's Bill, the Commercial Banking Company's Bill, and the Waratah Coal Company's Bill.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

On the motion of MR. MARTIN, the names of MR. Faucett and Mr. Wilson were added to the Library Committee.

COLONIAL SUGAR COMPANY'S BILL.

On the motion of MR. SAMUEL, the House resolved itself into committee, to consider the details of the Colonial Sugar Refining Company's Bill.

The bills passed through committee without amendment. The third reading was fixed an order of the day for Friday next.

SEAMEN'S BILL.

The House resolved itself into committee on the Seamen's Laws Amendment and Consolidation Bill.

Clause 1, short title; 2, interpretation; 3, repeal of former enactments; 4, division of Act into parts; 5, appointment of shipping master; and 6, duties of shipping master, were agreed to without any material alteration.

Clause 7 (fees on engagements and discharges), was amended by making the fee payable to the Consolidated Revenue fund.

Clauses 8, penalty for taking other remuneration (amended slightly), and 9, shipping business may be done at Custom houses, were agreed to without discussion.

Clause 10, Transactions before shipping master may be dispensed with by Minister for special reason, postponed.

Clause 11, How indentures to be executed and attested. This clause was amended by making it incumbent upon the attesting justice to ascertain that the proposed apprentice under twenty-one years of age is not acting against the will of the parent or guardian.

Clauses 12, Indentures to be recorded; 13, apprentices from charitable institutions; 14, apprentices in foreign trade ships; 15, penalties for unlawfully supplying seamen, or employing others to do so, or for receiving seamen unlawfully supplied, or for receiving remuneration from seamen for shipping them; 16, agreements to be made with seamen containing certain particulars; and 17, seamen to be engaged before the shipping master, or on board the ship in which they serve,—were agreed to without discussion.

Clause 18, For foreign trade ships agreements to be made before owner or shipping master.

Captain MORIARTY and MR. DALGLEISH made a few remarks on the desirability of providing that seamen should ship before a shipping master.

The clause was then verbally amended and passed.

Clause 19, to regulate fees payable on running agreements; clause 20, duplicates of running agreements how to be dealt with; clause 21, special agreements for intercolonial ships belonging to same owners; clause 22, fresh engagement in same vessel without further charges (verbally amended); clause 23, penalty for shipping seamen without agreement duly executed; clause 24, changes in crew to be reported—were passed without any material amendments.

Clause 25, seamen engaged in the colonies to be shipped before some shipping master or officer of Customs, was omitted, on the ground that it was not in harmony with other clauses of the Bill.

Clause 26, alterations to be void unless attested to have been made with the consent of all parties; clause 27, penalty for falsifying agreement; clause 28, seamen not to be bound to produce agreement; clause 29, copy of agreement to be made accessible to crew; clause 30, seamen discharged before end of agreement to have compensation; clause 31, regulations as to allotment notes; clause 32, allotment notes may be sued on summarily by certain persons on certain conditions; clause 33, no advance note or wages to be given or paid to seamen until after the ship's articles have been duly signed—were passed also without amendment.

Clause 34 (discharge from foreign trade ships to be made before shipping master) was omitted as unnecessary.

Clause 35, master to deliver account of wages; clause 36, certificates of discharge; clause 37, shipping master may decide questions which parties refer to him; clause 38, master and others to produce ship's papers to shipping master, and give evidence, clause 39, settlement of wages; clause 40, master to make reports of character; clause 41, right to wages and provisions when ship is lost; clause 42, seamen not to give up certain rights; clause 43, wages not to be dependent upon the earning of freight—were all passed without amendment.

Clause 44, right to wages in case of termination of service by wreck or illness.

MR. DALGLEISH moved a proviso rendering it imperative upon the master or owner of every intercolonial ship to carry a chest of medicines, selected by an apothecary of known reputation, accompanied by directions for administering the same, or in default the master or owner to pay for such advice or medicine as it shall be necessary for any of his crew or apprentices at every port at which he shall touch without any deduction whatever from the seaman's wages.

The clause, as amended, was then put and agreed to.

Clause 45, allowance for short or bad provisions; clause 46, wages not to accrue during refusal to work or imprisonment; clause 47, period within which wages are to be paid; clause 48, seamen may sue for wages in a summary manner—were also all passed without amendment.

Clause 49, restrictions on suits for wages in superior courts.

MR. DRIVER observed that the blank for the amount that might be sued for in an Admiralty Court was filled in with the words "fifty pounds." At present the amount was twenty pounds, and he saw no reason why it should be altered; he should move, therefore, that the blank be filled in with the word "twenty."

MR. DALGLEISH said he should not object to the amendment, but he would remind the hon. member that a seaman might sue for any sum less than £50, under the Masters and Servants Acts, or in the District Courts of the colony. The word "fifty" has been filled in with a view to prevent vexatious and expensive actions before the Admiralty Courts for small amounts.

MR DRIVER said the captain or officers of the ship could, under the proposed clause, have a lien on the ship if the sum of £50 was due to either of them, but the seamen whose claims were smaller could not do so, and he could not see why the seamen should not have the same remedy as those above them in station.

MR DARVALL said he saw it was proposed that no seamen should have the power to recover in a court of record in the colony unless the owner of the ship was declared insolvent, &c. What was there in the claim of a seaman that the ordinary courts—seeing that the District Court was a Court of Record—should not be open to him?

MR. DALGLEISH said he did not know why this provision should be made, but he would remind the hon. gentleman that the bill was a transcript of the British Merchant Seaman's Act.

MR. DRIVER'S amendment was assented to, and the clause was then put and agreed to,

Clause 51, master to have same remedies for wages as seamen; clause 51, master to take charge of or sell effects of deceased seamen which are on board, and enter the same and wages due in log; clause 52, such effects and wages to be paid to shipping master with full accounts; clause 53, penalties for not taking charge of remitting or accounting for such moneys and effects; clause 54, wages and effects of seamen dying in colonies; clause 55, if less than £50, wages and property of deceased seamen may be paid over without probate or administration; clause 56, mode of payment under wills made by seamen; clause 57, provision for payment of just claims by creditors, and for prosecuting fraudulent claims; clause 58, mode of dealing with unclaimed wages of deceased seamen; clause 59, punishment for forgery and false representations in order to obtain wages and property of deceased seamen; clause 60, recovery of wages &c, of seamen lost with their ship; clause 61, wages to be paid when seamen are left behind on ground of inability; clause 62, costs of procuring imprisonment may be deducted from wages; clause 63, amount of forfeiture, how ascertained when seamen contract for voyage; clause 64, questions of forfeiture may be decided in suits for wages; clause 65, leaving a seaman behind a misdemeanour; clause 67, proof of such certificate to be upon master; clause 68, sale of and charge upon salvage on wages invalid—were passed without amendment.

Clause 69, expenses of medical attendance.

MR. R. FORSTER thought there was some ambiguity in the clause. Under this provision, if a seaman should be injured in any way, whether it was his own fault or whether the injury was sustained in the service of his ship by the circumstance of his being in the employment of a particular owner, the expense of surgical and medical attendance fell on the owner.

MR DALGLEISH admitted that the clause was ambiguous, but thought it would be very difficult to render it more clear, so as to carry out the object in view. It was desirable that the English legislation on this subject should be adhered to.

MR. DARVALL said the words would only apply to persons injured in the ship's service.

A verbal amendment was made and the clause was agreed to.

Clause 70, Penalties for overcharge by lodginghouse-keepers; clause 71, penalty for detaining seamen's effect; clause 72, penalty for going on board before arrival; clause 73, penalty for solicitation by lodginghouse-keeper; and clause 74, misconduct endangering ship or life or limb a misdemeanour, were passed without amendment.

Clause 75, Offences of seamen and apprentices and their punishments.

MR. WILSON moved the omission of the words "with or without hard labour." His principal reason for proposing this amendment was that as the gaols were at present arranged a respectable young man sentenced to imprisonment for desertion from his ship would be associated with the hardened doubly and trebly convicted felons. The clause as it stood would do very well if we had a proper system of penal discipline, and some classification of the prisoners.

MR. DALGLEISH remarked that it would be an act of mercy to keep the seamen confined in prison employed. It would be ten thousand times more mischievous for them to be loitering about the gaols where they would become initiated in crime than for them to be employed in hard labour. Besides which, those who were condemned to hard labour in the gaols had more liberal diet than the other prisoners. He hoped the seamen would not be condemned to idleness.

MR. WILSON explained that he had objected to sentencing seamen to hard labour because, in the present state of the gaols, they would be forced to associate with the worst of criminals. The circumstance of men being condemned to hard labour would deter most the prisoners from being injured by bad associates; on the contrary, he believed that crime had never been instilled into more minds than those confined in the prisons as much as it had been in those condemned to hard labour at Cockatoo.

MR. MORRIS hoped the hon. member would not press his amendment, as the question whether the prisoners should have hard labour might safely be left to the discretion of the magistrate, who would have a knowledge of the case on his files.

MR SAULEIR observed that in the gaols of this colony the seamen were kept distinct from the other prisoners.

MR. EAGAR thought the clause might stand as it was. The clause in the Imperial Act was even more stringent.

DR. LANG considered that the association of prisoners in labour was rather a benefit to the prisoners than a punishment.

MR, WILSON would withdraw his amendment. He had no wish to prevent seamen confined in gaol from being employed, but he thought they ought not to be indoctrinated into the belief that labour was a thing to be avoided.

The attention of the committee to the fact, that as the bill now stood, if a seaman absented himself from his ship for one hour he was liable to conviction for desertion. It was not defined what desertion meant, but it was left to the magistrates to decide the matter. He thought that desertion ought to be defined in the interpretation clause.

MR. DALGLEISH agreed with the suggestion which had been thrown out, that the meaning of the word "desertion" in this Act should be defined in the interpretation clause. He thought that the seaman ought to be allowed to expiate his offence of desertion by a pecuniary loss, in the same way as a landsman. He should move for the recommittal of the bill in order that the interpretation clause might be altered so as to define that desertion should be taken to mean at least forty-eight hours' absence from duty without leave. He would throw it out as a suggestion to the Government, that it might be well that a sum of £.000 should be set apart for the purchase of a hulk for the separate confinement of the seamen who were to be punished under this Act.

After some further conversation—

MR. WILSON withdrew his amendment.

On the motion of MR. DALGLEISH, the words "or for insubordination" were added after the words "lawful command" in the 4th line of the clause, on the 25th page of the printed bill.

The clause so amended was then put and agreed to.

Clause 76, entry in the log of offence, and offender's defence, if any.

On the motion of MR. DALGLEISH, this clause was put and passed.

Clause 77, providing that deserters might be sent on board in lieu of being imprisoned, was postponed.

Clause 78, facilities for proving desertion as far as concerns forfeiture of wages, was then put and passed.

Clause 79, penalty for false statement as to name.

On the motion of MR. DALGLEISH, two amendments were made in this clause. In lines 29 and 30 the words "and fraudulently" were struck out; and in the 31st line (after the words "ship or") the following words "by such false name" were inserted, in lieu of the words "last alleged ship."

The clause so amended was then put and passed.

The following clauses were then agreed to without discussion, Clause 80, penalty for enticing to desert and harbouring deserters; clause 81, regulations for carrying the Act into full effect; clause 82, printed forms to be supplied by shipping masters; clause 83, penalties for offences not specified; clause 84, recovery and application of penalties; clause 85, sums ordered to be paid leviable by distress on ships.

The first schedule, reciting the Acts to be repealed; and the second schedule, containing the form of declaration to be used by the shipping master, were then severally agreed to.

The third schedule was as follows:—

Fees to be charged for matters transacted at shipping offices.

1. Engagement of Crews.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| In ships under 60 tons | ... | ... | £0 4 0 |
| 60 to 100 tons | ... | ... | 0 7 0 |
| 100 to 300 tons | ... | ... | 0 14 0 |
| 300 to 400 tons | ... | ... | 1 0 0 |
| 400 to 500 tons | ... | ... | 1 3 0 |
| 500 to 600 tons | ... | ... | 1 10 0 |
| 600 to 700 tons | ... | ... | 1 15 0 |
| 700 to 800 tons | ... | ... | 2 0 0 |
| 800 to 900 tons | ... | ... | 2 5 0 |
| 900 to 1000 tons | ... | ... | 2 10 0 |

And so on for ships of larger tonnage, adding for every 100 tons above 1000 five shillings.

2. Engagement of Seamen separately.

Two shillings for each.

3. Discharge of Crews.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| In ships under 60 tons | ... | ... | £0 4 0 |
| 60 to 100 tons | ... | ... | 0 7 0 |
| 100 to 300 tons | ... | ... | 0 15 0 |
| 300 to 400 tons | ... | ... | 1 0 0 |
| 400 to 500 tons | ... | ... | 1 5 0 |
| 500 to 600 tons | ... | ... | 1 10 0 |
| 600 to 700 tons | ... | ... | 2 0 0 |
| 700 to 800 tons | ... | ... | 2 5 0 |
| 800 to 900 tons | ... | ... | 2 10 0 |
| 900 to 1000 tons | ... | ... | 2 15 0 |

And so on for ships of larger tonnage, adding for every 100 tons above 1000 five shillings.

4. Discharge of seamen separately.

Two shillings for each.

Sums to be deducted from wages by way of partial repayment of above fees:—

1. In respect of engagements and discharges of crews.

Upon each engagement and each discharge, from the wages of each seaman—one shilling.

2. In respect of engagements and discharges of seamen separately.

Upon each engagement and each discharge—one shilling.

CAPTAIN MORIARTY objected to the terms of this schedule altogether. Why should a seaman be called upon to pay a fee of two shillings for leave to make an engagement for himself on board any ship?

MR. DALGLEISH said that it appeared to be necessary that some charge should be made; the hon. and gallant member would find that the fees payable under this Act were, on the whole, far less than those required to be paid under the existing Act. It was desirable that the bill should be passed. The bill was for the relief of seamen frequenting this port, and ought not to be delayed. A measure with the main object of this bill had already been three years before Parliament, and he hoped that it would not now be impeded. He thought some fees should be paid for the purpose of covering the expenses of registration, and that the Colonial Treasurer should not be empowered to ask for more than would suffice for that purpose. In his opinion they might reasonably allow the charges for these matters to stand. As regarded the engagement of seamen separately, he thought one shilling would be quite sufficient.

MR. EAGAR was opposed to any reduction of charge as regarded the engagement of crews, but thought that something might be said in favour of a reduction of the charge for the separate engagement of a seaman.

MR. DALGLEISH moved that the schedule be altered by the insertion of the words "ships under thirty tons, two shillings," after the words "engagement of crews."

MR. MORRIS opposed the amendment.

MR. DALGLEISH thought the proposal to limit the charge for small vessels was reasonable. It must be borne in mind that colonial vessels—vessels engaged in the coasting trade—if under eighty tons, were specially exempted from the necessity of going to the shipping office.

DR. LANG concurred in the views expressed by MR. Dalgleish.

Some further conversation took place, in the course of which MR. Dalgleish further explained that it was optional to vessels under eighty tons to go to the shipping office or not, as the masters of those vessels or others interested thought best. If they did go they ought to be called upon to pay.

MR. MORRIS thought, if it was left merely optional in the case of vessels under eighty tons, the payment for the convenience of the shipping-office ought to be more instead of less.

MR. DALGLEISH expressed his intention of moving, by way of amendment, that the fees be reduced fifty per cent.

MR. EAGAR informed hon. members that if they seceded to the proposition to cut down these charges, any deficiency must be made up from the general revenue. He also impressed upon the committee the necessity of having the schedule as it was, he shall have become aware" and notice. It would be impossible to prove whether the owner had become aware. He would therefore move the insertion of the words, "shall have reasonable grounds to suspect," instead of "shall have become aware."

MR. MORRIS supported the clause as it stood, and MR. WILSON withdrew his amendment.

MR. DANGAR also withdrew his amendment.

The clause was put and passed.

Clause 14, owners of sheep to cause them to be followed during the day, and kept securely folded during the night, was agreed to.

Clause 15, quarantine for infected sheep, was verbally amended and agreed to.

Clause 16, appeal to directors, was agreed to.

Clause 17, penalties for infringing quarantine, was agreed to.

Clause 18, branding infected sheep, was agreed to.

Clause 19, brands evidence of infection, was agreed to.

Clause 20, penalty on unlicensed owners of infected sheep, was agreed to.

Clause 21, inspectors to grant license for cleansing diseased sheep, was agreed to.

Clause 22, return of license fee under special circumstances, was agreed to.

Clause 23, travelling sheep to be branded under a penalty of sixpence per sheep, was moved.

MR. WILSON pointed out that only owners of sheep were liable, whereas persons might assist the infected sheep of others to travel, and yet escape punishment. He therefore moved as an amendment the insertion of the words "or any person assisting infected sheep to travel, knowing the same to be infected."

The amendment was carried, and the clause thus amended was agreed to.

Clause 24, owners may detain travelling sheep for examination, was agreed to.

Clause 25, assistance in detaining or destroying sheep, was agreed to.

Clause 26, sheep not be brought across the boundaries from adjoining colonies until certificate obtained from inspector, was agreed to.

Clause 27, permit for sheep inside boundary line, was verbally amended and agreed to.

Clause 28, imported sheep to be reported immediately to inspector, and not removed without his certificate, was agreed to.

Clause 29, sheep from inland to near seaport to be dressed, was agreed to.

Clause 30, owner of sheep may give notice for destruction of sheep, making compensation, was verbally amended and agreed to.

Clause 31, bond how enforced, was agreed to.

Clause 32, infected sheep loose may be killed, having been moved.

MR. BUCHANAN said it was too wide a power to give to an owner of sheep to allow him to destroy sheep off his own run. He would confine this power to sheep found on his own run.

MR. MORRIS pointed out that the great advantage was that persons would be permitted to destroy diseased sheep wherever they were found off their own run.

The clause was agreed to.

Clause 33, communicating scab a misdemeanor, was, after some conversation, agreed to.

Clause 34, casting carcases of infected sheep into stream or waterhole, punishable by fine not exceeding five pounds.

The amendment was put and carried, and the House again went into Committee on the bill.

MR. DALGLEISH moved that this clause was slightly amended, and it was proposed by MR. EAGAR to amend schedule 3, so as to annul the previous amendments, and increase the charge for shipping to the amount originally set forth in the schedule,

MR. GARRETT and MR. HARPUR spoke in favour of the lesser amount, the latter also objecting to these charges being imposed upon farmers also.

Captain MORIARTY, who expressed a desire to see the shipping establishment at this port abolished altogether, proposed that the whole of the items in the schedule be reduced by fifty per cent.

The Committee divided, and it was agreed that the schedule be restored to its original form as regards the rate of charges.

The bill was reported to the House with further amendments, the report adopted, and the third reading fixed for Friday next.

SCAB IN SHEEP BILL.

On the motion of MR. MORRIS, the House went into committee on the Scab in Sheep Bill.

Clauses 1 to 3 were postponed.

Clause 4, "Scab District."

MR. ROBERTSON said he apprehended that the proposed system of forming scab districts would not work well. He considered that the only justification for the Legislature to interfere in the matter of this disease at all was the danger that might arise to the great pastoral interest of the country from being scabby in any district. If we were to appoint scab districts, and compel the proprietors in those districts were to have the complete power of control to say whether or not scabby sheep should be permitted to exist there, the time might come when in some districts the majority of the proprietors would have scabby sheep, and they would protect their own interests by the power given under the law. They would use this power to prevent the destruction of the scabby sheep in their districts, and then he submitted that all our legislation on the subject would come to have any effect; it would be fruitless to pass any such Act only for the purpose of having this system of having scab districts—creating, as it were, a municipality of sheep proprietors in one district—was one that could not be made applicable in a matter of this kind. An element would be created which would have a most disastrous tendency towards all the other districts. He would suggest that the hon. member should consent to the postponement of this clause. He had already intimated his objections to the appointment of scab inspectors by local authorities. He was astonished to hear the hon. Secretary for Lands say he had no means of determining who would be the best qualified for the scab inspectors. The hon. gentleman probably knew best his powers; but he must be free from him (Mr. Robertson) to force on the hon. gentleman a duty that he did not wish to discharge. He admitted it to be a grave question whether the Legislature of the country ought to interfere at all with the interests of other matters, but if you do interfere, do not give the community all the disadvantages, the annoyances, and the losses attendant upon interference, without at the same time giving them the advantages that would be derived from the law being made applicable to every district in the colony.

MR. MORRIS submitted that the hon. member (Mr. Robertson) had not adduced any argument against allowing those gentlemen who provided the funds for compensating the owners of scabby sheep, the right of nominating the persons to be appointed scab inspectors under this bill. His great object in introducing this clause was to induce the owners of sheep to manage their own concerns. Hitherto they had never done this for themselves, but had on every occasion run to the Government for assistance. If the proprietors of sheep would not manage their own affairs, let the losses fall upon themselves. His experience of the working of the Government could not appoint proper scab inspectors. He did not believe that one of those lately appointed had received the approbation of the sheep proprietors.

MR. ROBERTSON admitted the justice of the principle that those appointments should be made by those who found the money. But he thought that the Government—although it did the proprietors of sheep throughout the colony—was a much better body to appoint the inspectors than any local municipality. For instance, he believed that a large proportion of the proprietors of sheep on the Liverpool Plains had scabby sheep; they would pay only a very small proportion of the compensation money, but it might in the present state of affairs be to their interest to keep up the disease. He did not believe that the allegation made respecting the inspectors could be sustained; at all events they had been appointed upon the recommendation of the best informed proprietors of sheep.

MR. WILSON was also bound to admit it to be a very grave question, whether the Legislature should interfere in this matter. The case, however, was an exceptional one, inasmuch as the House had been called on to legislate by the unanimous voice of the sheepowners. A large majority of those gentlemen desired us to pass a bill similar to that now brought in. ("No.") A large number of sheepowners had since become convinced that compulsory measures ought to be adopted The sheep directors had not the powers that had been ascribed to them by his predecessor; and so far from it being to their interest to allow their sheep to remain scabby, they would have to pay four shillings per annum to the compensation fund for every sheep scabby. Depend upon it, they would do everything in their power to root out the scab from their district. It was provided that the five directors should recommend the appointment of a scab inspector. (Mr. ROBERTSON: The Government need not appoint him unless they like.) But those gentlemen, from their position, were better qualified to select that officer than the Government; as some one must be consulted in the appointments. For these reasons he felt inclined to support the bill.

MR. ROBERTSON said he was sure that the pastoral people, from one end of the country to the other, would be against the bill.

MR. GARRETT said he did not think it a sound principle to establish municipalities to expend money raised from the whole of the colony.

MR. FIDDINGTON looked upon it as the duty of Parliament to do all in their power to prevent the extension of the scab. The hon. member who had spoken thought it seemed that the Government ought to have the entire control of the appointment of scab inspectors in every district. To him, however, it appeared that the scope of the Act was a much more plain and simple one; it was merely to assist the efforts of the possessors of flocks of sheep in keeping those flocks free from infection. The whole question involved was whether they should attempt to cure or destroy those sheep that were infected, and the policy had been affirmed that they should attempt to cure the sheep and the Act was to be taken to carry that policy. The curative policy had not failed in South Australia.—MR. ROBERTSON: "It has,"—and it ought to be thirty years here.

MR. ROBERTSON had been really amused with the speech of the hon. member for the Hawkesbury, who had misapprehended the nature of the question before the House. Because the House had previously affirmed the proposition that it was expedient to take curative measures in regard to the scab, it did not follow that the blazing fire which the scab might be considered to have kindled in other parts of the country should be allowed to rage unchecked. If the scab was, unhappily, prevalent in certain districts, it was surely a matter of consideration whether steps, in the interests of other non-infected districts, might not be taken to prevent its further extension. If the scab was allowed to continue to exist in any one district it would better not to have interfered with the disease at all.

MR. MORRIS thought that the remarks of the hon. member showed that he had not considered the matter. The chief inspector was to have control over all the other inspectors and not the directors. If a chief inspector were appointed, he took it that the first duty of such an officer would be to go to the Liverpool Plains district, to which the scab was now principally confined. He denied that the working of the Scab Act in South Australia was unsatisfactory—although the law had been there so framed that it could not readily be put in force if the sheepowners had tried to resist it.

MR. DANGAR said he believed that the hon. member for Shoalhaven had, as he understood, always made his appointments of scab inspectors subject to the favourable opinion of the chief scab inspector, [MR. ROBERTSON: No.] He believed that he had done so. He had done so in the case of the appointment of a man whom he (Mr. Dangar) had recommended to him. He thought that such a proviso would not be likely to have their districts proclaimed under the provisions of the Scab Act. They would not do so because the fact of their being so would be to depreciate the value of their stock. He preferred judicious curative measures to the destruction of sheep.

MR. BURDEKIN agreed that it would not be advisable to have small districts. If the colony were divided into four districts, it would do away with the objections which had been raised in reference to the matter. He would propose, therefore, that words should be inserted to enable the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council to divide the colony into four districts.

MR. MORRIS pointed out that the directors would not meet in such large districts; and in cases of appeal, how were they to bring three directors together?

MR. WILSON said the amendment would tie up the hands of the Government, and he thought it would have a tendency to make the Act inoperative.

MR. BURDEKIN did not press his amendment.

MR. BUCHANAN thought the proposition in this bill to appoint scab inspectors was better than that contained in the old bill.

The clause was then put and passed.

Clause 5, chief inspector—his powers and duties; 6, sheep directors; 7, directors to appoint inspectors; 8, earlier commencement of the Act; 9, inspector removeable, and false report to be a misdemeanour; 10, made into two clauses]; 11, powers and duties of inspector and penalty for obstructing him; 12, notice of scab breaking out—were passed without amendment.

Clause 13, immediate notice of infection to inspector and director.

MR. DANGAR proposed that the penalty for neglect to comply with the provisions of the clause be—instead of "£20,"—"not exceeding £20."

MR. MORRIS said great consideration had been given to this matter, and he hoped the amendment would not be agreed to. On compliance with the provisions of this clause depended the success of the working of the bill.

MR. LUCAS supported the clause as it stood.

MR. WILSON drew attention to the words at the commencement of this clause—"Every owner shall within three days after

The bill was reported to the House with further amendments.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

FROM FRIDAY, 20TH NOVEMBER, TO FRIDAY, 27TH NOVEMBER.

THREE armed bushrangers—the remnant of the Gardiner-Gilbert gang—attacked Mr. David Campbell's place, at Goumbia (about thirty-two miles from Forbes), on the night of Thursday, the 19th instant, at 8 p.m. Mr. Campbell bravely defended his house, and kept the ruffians at bay for two hours and a half. Finally, he was fortunate enough to be able to shoot O'Meally dead, soon after that robber and his companions had set fire to the premises. Mr. Campbell's brother is understood to have been shot, and placed hors de combat at an early period in the conflict. Mrs. Campbell behaved with admirable courage and heroic devotion. Had the servant men about the place shown something of the same spirit which animated the lady and her husband, it seems pretty certain that the two surviving members of the gang might have been happily and expeditiously accounted for. The verdict on the death of O'Meally was "justifiable homicide."

The dwelling of Mr. Daniels, baker, at Armidale, was totally consumed by fire on the night of the 19th instant.

The Hon. J. H. Plunkett, Q.C., who for so long a period held the office of Attorney-General, has consented to represent the Government in the Upper House. Mr. Plunkett has a seat in the Executive.

The annual examination of the St. Peter's parochial school, Cook's River, for the Metcalfe prizes, was held on the 20th instant, in the schoolroom, in the presence of the local board and a number of ladies and gentlemen of the district. The first match of the No. 1 Company, S.B.V.R., for the telescope presented by Mr. Richard Brownlow, was fired off on Wednesday morning last, at the Volunteer Butts,—the ranges being 700, 800, and 900 yards. Private Croft succeeded in making top score, with thirty-one marks. This prize—a valuable one—will be shot for monthly, till it has been won three times by the same member, when it is to become his property.

The Rev. F. Hibberd, a Baptist minister, recently arrived from England, commenced a series of religious services in the Masonic Hall, on Sunday last. On the three preceding Sabbaths Mr. Hibberd preached in the Assembly Rooms, William-street; but that place being too small, the Masonic Hall has been hired for Sunday services. At both the morning and evening services the Hall was well filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kean, having been engaged by Mr. W. S. Lyster, have arrived from Melbourne. They are to appear at the Prince of Wales Theatre next Monday night.

A man named M'Cann has been apprehended on suspicion of being the person who robbed and ill-treated William Saville on the Dog Trap Road.

Mr. Quinn, master of the schooner Nightingale, harpooned a fine porpoise, off Bellambi, on the 19th instant. The harpoonist was nearly three hours before he could get it out of the water. It measured between eight and nine feet in length, and had 160 teeth in its jaws.

A large public meeting, under the auspices of "The League for the Promotion of Colonial Industry," was held last Monday night at the Masonic Hall, in York-street. The chair was occupied by Mr. Alderson. Numerous resolutions were proposed and agreed to, and a form of petition to the Assembly adopted.

The following gentlemen have accepted seats in the Legislative Council:—Mr. Robert Johnson, Double Bay; Mr. John Blaxland, Hermitage, Ryde; and Mr. Edward David Stewart Ogilvie, Yulgilbar, Clarence River. Mr. Butler has resigned his seat.

Grand concerts were given by Madame Hainberger, Mademoiselle Kramer (the celebrated Tyrolese minstrels), and by Mr. Julius Haimberger on the nights of Monday and Tuesday last. They came off at the School of Arts, in Pitt-street, on both occasions, and gave great satisfaction to those who were present. The programme on both evenings embraced many vocal gems. He was not much hurt by the fall, but he was unfortunately kicked in the jaw by the horse.—A little boy who was playing in Bay-street, Glebe, was, on Tuesday, run over by a horse. He received a flesh wound in the leg. Another accident occurred at Canterbury on the same day. A man named Thornton was thrown off a horse by which he suffered an injury to his ancle.

A tea and public meeting of the Wesleyan church and congregation worshipping at the School of Arts, North Shore, took place last Monday night. The attendance was somewhat crowded.

Last Tuesday night a pleasing dramatic entertainment was given by a number of gentlemen amateurs at the School of Arts, Darling-street, Balmain. Two of the cases were dismissed on the defendants paying costs; of the others, one was fined 10s., and Downing 10s. with costs.

Edward Byers was convicted on a charge of carrying on business as seamen's lodging-house keeper without a license. Fined 40s. with costs.

Charles H. Brissett, master of the barque Atrevida, and Henry P. Scott, master of the barque Meteor, were fined 10s. each, for neglecting to have a watch on deck at night whilst their vessels lay in harbour.

LICENSING BUSINESS.—The Bench granted auctioneers' licenses to the undermentioned applicants: Henry Chatto, Walter Bradley, and James Craig, junr.

On Sunday last anniversary services were preached in the Congregational Church, West Maitland, by the Rev. Mr. Slatyer, of Redfern. On Tuesday a tea meeting was held in a booth at the rear of the church, at which about 170 persons partook of tea and cake, provided by the ladies of the congregation. A public meeting was afterwards held in the church.—Maitland Mercury.

THE CROPS.—The Dungog correspondent of the Mercury regrets being in a position to report that, in common with the other neighbouring districts, our wheat crops are, in a great measure ruined by the rust. The quantity put in this season is inconsiderable, consequently the loss will not be quite so crushing. Farmers are busy cutting and rolling down preparatory to burning off.

THE SCAB.—Allan's specific for scab has established its reputation in the estimation of a number of gentlemen whose names were affixed to a certificate affirming its curative virtues, on Saturday last. Among those are the names of Messrs. Ryan, Goldsbrough, Stilling, and Kyte. This document was signed on the occasion of the final inspection of the sheep dipped on the 30th October, re-dipped on the 12th of this month, and pronounced perfectly cured on Saturday. That these animals are miraculously transformed since the day they were first immersed in the specific, every one who saw them and will look at them now will at once admit. More wretched objects than they were at that time—covered with disease, with but a ragged and dirty scrap or two of wool hanging about them and almost too feeble to stand upon their feet—can scarcely be conceived. Now they are vigorous, lively, and stout; they might even have been fat had they been better fed. They discover no inclination to scratch themselves, their skin looks healthy and fresh, and the new crop of wool, which is showing all over them, is in all respects equal to what sheep of the same description who have never had the scab would produce. So far, then, we are disposed to acquiesce in the judgment of the gentlemen above named and others who have signed the certificate, namely, that Allan's specific is what it professes to be, a cure for scab.—Melbourne Age, November 22.

We observe from an advertisement in another column, that Monday, the 30th instant, being St. Andrew's Day, will be observed as a holiday by all the banks.

There has been scarcely anything in the share market this week, and very little desire on the part of buyers to invest in our several securities, except at reduced rates. Holders, however, are not disposed to submit to any great decline, believing that the apathy now exhibited is only of a temporary character, and that as soon as the calls on the City Bank and Australian Joint Stock Bank have been paid up there will be a renewed demand for the shares of our dividend paying companies. The fluctuations this week are as follows:—In Bank shares the only alteration is in City Bank shares, which are rather firmer, and have advanced 1s. per share; Australian Joint Stock Bank shares are steady at quotations. Steam Insurance shares are unaltered. Peak Downs Copper Mining shares are not so firm: a small sale has been made at £3 per share, but there are plenty of sellers at this price. Applications for shares in the Peak Downs New Copper Mine will close on the 30th instant. The following are the prices at which sales have been made during the week:—Australian Joint Stock Bank, £14 and £14 2s. 6d. per share; City Bank, £5 6s. 6d., £5 7s., and £5 7s. 6d. per share. Australasian Steam Navigation Company (new shares) £15 12s. 6d. and £15 15s. per share. United Fire and Marine Insurance Company, 22s. 6d. per share. Peak Downs Copper Mine, £3 per share.

DEBENTURES.—Government debentures are in moderate demand. Terminables, due in 1892, have been sold at 101 and interest; interminables, 99 and interest. Illawarra Steam Navigation Company's debentures have changed hands at 101¼ and interest.

The following table will show the closing prices of our securities, as well as the rates at which business has been transacted during the week:—

A fair amount of business has been transacted since the departure of the mail, orders from the country having come more freely to hand. There is, however, no movement of importance in our markets, and prices rule about the same as last week. Liquids continue dull of sale, and prices unaltered. Sugars are rather firmer, the late news from Mauritius, and the large purchases lately made by the Sugar Company, having induced holders to ask higher rates. In teas there has been a large sale of congous, but the prices realised have not transpired. Rice is steady. Patna, ex Elizabeth, is quoted at £20 to £21 per ton; ex Oxenbridge, £18 10s. per ton. Oilmen's stores, candles, provisions, dried fruits, &c., are dull of sale, and prices nominally the same as last week.

Messrs. Durham and Irwin held their usual weekly produce sale on Thursday. The catalogue comprised sheepskins, tallow, hides, and leather. Sheepskins:—Over 1500 were sold, at from 5½d to 6¼d. Tallow:—47 casks were sold, at from £37 to £38 per ton. Hides:—1115 hides of medium weights were brought forward, of which about 800 were disposed of, at from 7s to 10s each.

Messrs. L. B. Threlkeld and Co. report having effected privately during the week several heavy sales of teas and sugars, but prices obtained show no alteration on last quotations. They also offered this afternoon, on Farrelly's Wharf, the cargo of American lumber ex A. W. Stevens, just arrived from New York. The entire shipment was disposed of at the following prices:—7260 pine boards, 1 inch, 30s; 1 inch shelving boards, 32s; 25s 8d; rough clear pine, 1½ inch, 31s 6d; ditto, ¾ inch, 25s; ditto, 2 inch, 34s 9d; ditto, 2½ inch, 31s 6d; spruce deals, 14s; laths, 12s 6d. At the same time and place, they sold the cargo of Kaurie timber ex Ensign, just arrived from Wanganui, at the following prices: Fine logs, 18s. All the sawn timber 11s 6d; boards, 9 x 1 inch, 11s; 9 and 6 x 1, 13s; deck planking, 1½ inch, 15s 6d; 2 inch, 16s 3d. In the morning of the same day they disposed of a very extensive assortment of boots and shoes ex La Hogue; prices ruled low, and would leave but a small margin to importers. The same firm held on Tuesday last a large sale of groceries and oilmen's stores, when several invoices of English goods, ex recent arrivals, were disposed of at full market rates.

SYDNEY STOCK AND SHARE LIST.

[W. BARTON.]

I CANNOT report any improvement in the value of securities. Almost every description of shares is offered at last prices, but there is a decided indisposition to purchase, unless at such a reduction as holders are not disposed to submit to. Consequently very little has been done this week.

My sales have been as follows:—

City Bank shares, at £5 5s 6d and £5 7s

Joint Stock shares, at £14 2s 6d

Australasian Steam shares, £10 paid, to £15 12s 6d

United Insurance shares, £1 2s 6d

Government Debentures, interminable, 99 per cent. and interest accrued.

27th November.

[LENNON AND CAPE.]

We have to report another dull week in our share market. Bank and steam shares are quiet, insurance shares neglected, and coal and other mining shares dull of sale. Debentures have been in good demand for remittance. The share list of the Peak Downs New Copper Company closes on Monday, the 30th instant.

Our sales during the week have been in—

Australian Joint Stock Bank, at £14 2s 6d, £14

City Bank, at £5 7s 6d

Australian Steam Navigation Co., £10 paid, at £15 15s

New South Wales Government Debentures, 5 per cent. payable 1891, at 101 and interest

Queensland Government ditto, 6 per cent. payable 1883, at 110 and interest

27th November.

[J. MULLENS.]

I note a very dull week in the share market, and prices without change. I have sold a small parcel of Peak Downs shares at £3, which is £1 under last quotations. They are freely offering at this rate.

My sales this week have been—

Australian Joint Stock Bank shares, at £14 2s 6d

City Bank shares, at £5 7s 6d

United Insurance shares, at £1 2s 6d.

Peak Downs Mining shares, at £3.

Illawarra Steam Debentures (7 per cent. 1883) at 101¼ and interest

27th November.

[O. R. ELSWORTH.]

WOOL.—But little of the new clip has arrived since last report, and the transactions have consequently been limited. Much of that now arriving is being shipped on growers' account. From the Western and Southern districts the clip is unusually late, and prices of last year cannot be obtained. Some clips show a larger amount of seeds than usual.

Sheepskins remain unaltered in value.

Tallow.—This market has slightly improved—my about is per cwt. since last week. A few carcases are presented: a reaction is expected, as the trade are only buying from hand to mouth.

Hides.—There is no improvement. Most of the lots offered were light or faulty, and for such only low prices have been paid.

Tallow: 1 cask at 36s, 1 at 31s; B, 2 at 31s 9d; FR, 3 at 31s 3d; CB, 2 at 28s; T, 16 at 29s; L, 10 at 31s 3d; AW, 5 at 30s. Hides: 6 at 9s 3d.

26th November.

[DURHAM AND IRWIN.]

Wool.—The market is dull, and likely to continue so until the new clip begins to arrive in quantity. As yet no fixed prices can be quoted. At the public sales of this week about 190 were submitted, of which about one half were disposed of, consisting principally of fellmongers' parcels, which realised full rates, but nothing to test the market.

Sheepskins are in good demand, owing to the continued scarcity of greasy wool. 1300 were disposed of thus: HB, 1 bundle at 6¾d; CL, 1 lot at 5½d; JJR, 1 lot at 6d; JF, 1 lot at 6¾d; BB, 1 lot at 6¼d per lb.

Tallow.—There was a slight improvement noticeable in the prices of this week. 47 casks were catalogued, and sold as follows:—B, 4 at 32s 9d; H, 1 at 29s; B, 5 at 27s 9d; B, 16 at 27s 9d, 6 at 28s; JW, 3 at 29s 6d; CRH, 3 at 32s; CAF, 3 at 30s 6d; G, 1 at 29s; S, 3 at 28s 6d; ditto, 1 at 32s per cwt.

Hides.—Nothing of importance offered during the week. Medium weights continue dull of sale: 1200 were offered, of which about 500 were sold, as follows:—60 at 7s 9d, 91 at 8s, 68 at 8s 3d, 109 at 8s 6d, 22 at 8s, 7 at 7s 9d, 20 at 10s, 99 at 7s each.

Leather, &c.—Little demand for sole or kip; for harness there is a good inquiry. Prices ruled thus:—Calf at 1s 6d, sole at 6d per lb.

Hair at 4½d per lb.

27th November.

[J. BREWSTER.]

Stations.—The biddings for the cattle stations offered by me at auction during the week did not realise the expectation of the owners, and they were consequently withdrawn; some of them are, however, now under offer privately, with every prospect of a satisfactory sale being effected.

Store Cattle.—There is no alteration in the demand for this class of stock. Sales can be effected at quotations, if liberal terms of payment are given, viz., equal sexes, two to six, on station, 25s; delivered at Rockhampton, 40s to 42s 6d; delivered at Hay, on the Murrumbidgee, 40s to 45s.

Store Sheep.—Young ewes, in Queensland, are in considerable demand, and extreme prices are obtainable for choice lots.

November 27.

[PATTORINI AND CO.]

Sheep Stations.—Purchasers are beginning to make their appearance in the market, and we have inquiries for lightly stocked property. Those who are in a position to invest largely will only treat for first-class squattages. The number of stations offering in the market at present, with the certainty of their increasing, has the effect of deterring purchasers from closing the negotiations that we have at present pending, but we think, from the favourable news received by the last mail, present prices may be maintained.

Cattle Stations.—The desire of late to invest in this description of property is much less than formerly, and only for those stations that command an easy and ready market have we any inquiries.

Unstocked Country.—We have sold a few blocks in the West Maranoa and Leichhardt districts at from £250 to £350 per block.

Store Sheep.—We have several inquiries for flocks suited for taking up new country in the north, and purchasers require good sheep, as they find it is a mistake to buy inferior and culled flocks, although they can procure them much cheaper.

Our sales have been 6000 maiden ewes with the fleece on, at £1 per head; and 1900 ewes, 5 and 6 years old, from under the range, Queensland, at 9s per head. As the weaning time approaches we shall have several large sales to report; purchasers being now on their way to inspect prior to closing.

Fat Sheep.—We have sold a large flock of Darling Downs wethers at 9s.

Store Cattle.—Our only sale has been a mob of 700 head of mixed store cattle, from a station on the Queensland border, at 30s per head. We have numerous enquiries for mobs deliverable further north, but the prices and terms offering will not tempt our constituents to sell.

27th November.

[PITT AND SULLIVAN.]

Fat Cattle.—We have this week to report a full market, and more competition than last. If anything, prices were a shade better than our last report. For the next few weeks we do not expect anything like ready sale for others than really good quality, and would advise our constituents to send only this kind in at present, as we think, with the fine weather, the supplies will more than equal the demand. We quote prime cattle worth £4.

Fat Sheep.—This market has again been amply supplied, prices are, in consequence, a shade lower. We quote best sheep, in wool, 15s; and, shorn, 10s 6d to 11s. We have this week sold 97 head of John Town's, Esq., at £3 19s.

27th November.

[R. FORBES.]

Fat Cattle.—Bullocks are mostly in demand, and this for shipment to New Zealand; an abundance of tonnage and freight at a low figure would much assist operations. The prices ruling are—for good prime bullocks, £4 10s to £5; prime cows are worth £3 18s; mixed mobs, £3 5s to £3 9s; second-class, £2 15s and £3.

Fat Sheep.—There are a good many to hand of inferior quality, which will not bring over 5s. Prime and fat wethers, 50lbs in weight, are worth 12s shorn.

Store Cattle.—I have some orders on hand on Southern account.

Store Sheep.—The rates at present are nominal. They may be quoted at for maiden ewes, 15s to 16s; breeding ewes, 12s to 14s; other sheep according to position and quality. These are for delivery in

Philosphers say the chameleon's sheen
To-day may be orange, to-morrow be green.
I stay but of one (for there's two of a trade)
Who'd assume any hue to be Alderman made;
To gain your support he will go on his knees
And swear to the creed of—whatever you please.
To the green and the orange no man can prove true,
Then vote for friend RENNY, whose colour is blue.
When doctors fall OUT, who shall dare to decide?
When painters fall IN 'tis for you to decide.
Which is the best candidate, Aitken or RENNY.
Then vote for the latter, the choice of the many—
The choice of the many, whose votes shall afford
All honour to those who have votes for Bourke Ward.

COLONIAL MANUFACTURES at the MONSTER CLOTHING HALL.

The increased patronage bestowed upon our COLONIAL-MADE CLOTHING induces us to draw attention to the fact that we are now making, IN THE COLONY, very large quantities and every description, both in medium and best quality, of BOYS', YOUTHS', and MEN'S CLOTHING, which, we have no hesitation in asserting, will be found upon inspection fully equal, both in STYLE, FINISH, and QUALITY, to any imported goods, while our prices for the same must convince the most sceptical that a really most beneficial advantage accrues to the purchaser by his preference to our colonial manufactures.

At the same time we would most EMPHATICALLY IMPRESS that these results are not brought about by grinding down our workpeople in the value of their labour, but may be found in the following facts:—

Firstly. That our capital enables us either to import materials at the lowest home quotations, or to take advantage of such depressions as are now existing in our own markets to make our purchases.

Secondly. The high rate of profits sought for and obtained by wholesale clothiers in England for their better class of manufactures offers a field for competition that, taken advantage of by those as practically acquainted with the working details as ourselves, must ultimately lead to a successful issue.

Thirdly. That although the profits upon our own manufactures may be something less than upon imported goods, the loss is compensated for in the advantage we derive in making up only such garments as exactly suit the requirements of our trade.

MURRUMBIDGEE DISTRICT.
That magnificent pastoral property, called
URANGALINE,
Situated in the MURRUMBIDGEE DISTRICT, about 55 miles from WAGGA WAGGA, and about 80 from Deniliquin, containing an immense area of richly grassed and well watered country, being that portion of the famous BROOKONG,
properly lying to the south of Urana or Urangaline Creek, and extending to the boundaries of the MAHONGA, BUTHERWA, and WALLARDOON RUNS.

With Urangaline will be sold
28,200 SHARP, more or less,
ALL WARRANTED SOUND, and NEVER to have been DISEASED, a fair average of the NOTED BROOKONG FLOCKS.

Terms, liberal

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from the Executors of the Will of the late Henry Osborne, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on an early day in FEBRUARY next, of which due notice will be given—

The above extensive and valuable pastoral property.

URANGALINE has been recently surveyed, and is found to contain the large area of 106,099 ACRES; or 165¾ SQUARE MILES of the RICHEST GRAZING LAND in the MURRUMBIDGEE DISTRICT. Hitherto it has formed part of the noted BROOKONG PROPERTY, having been mostly used for fattening the large draughts of HO sheep sent to, and so well known in, the Melbourne market, distant from the station about 280 miles.

URANGALINE is bounded partly on the north by the Urana Creek for about twenty-four miles, dividing it from Brookong; on the east, by part of WALLANDOON, the property lately belonging to Mr. Henty; on the south by Mahongo, owned by Mr. R. Rand; and on the west by Mr. William Chapman's buthewra run. The country consists principally of luxuriantly grassed plains and open box forest, abounding in MYALL and SALT BUSH, and other fattening pasture, including pigface, yams, &c. In addition to the immense frontage to the never-failing waters of the Urana Creek, the run is traversed by two other creeks, on which, at a large outlay, there have been numerous dams formed for assuring further supplies to that part of the property through which they take their course. From the openness of the country, the sheep are run IN FLOCKS FROM 2000 to 3000; and as the run has never yet been fully stocked, it is next to impossible to say what are its carrying capabilities, but it is believed by competent authorities that, with the present improvements, Urangaline would carry from 35,000 to 40,000 in any season, and, with a further inconsiderable outlay for water, a much larger number.

It may be mentioned that Urangaline has been severed from Brookong, with the sanction of the Government, and will be entitled to a separate lease, and also be subject only to its proportion of rent and assessment, the amount of which will be duly announced.

The IMPROVEMENTS comprise a number of sheepherds' huts, all in good order, and most of them supplied with water tanks for their convenience.

With Urangaline will be sold the following first-class SHEEP viz:—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| EWES.—1 year old | .. .. | 3000 more or less | |
| 2 years old | .. .. | 3000 | ditto |
| 3 years old | .. .. | 2000 | ditto |
| 4 years old | .. .. | 2000 | ditto |
| 5 and 6 years old | .. | 4800 | ditto |
| Aged | .. .. | 2000 | ditto |
| WETHERS.—1 year old | .. .. | 3000 | ditto |
| 2 years old | .. .. | 3000 | ditto |
| WEANERS.—About equal sexes | .. | 6000 | ditto |
| RAMS.—Equal proportions, 2 and 3 years, and aged | | 200 | ditto |
| Total | .. .. | .. | 28,280 sheep, ditto. |

Of the above 2000 of the ewes will lamb in March next and other flocks in May and July, as the whole of the breeding sheep will have been put to the rams prior to the sale. The whole will be a fair average of the celebrated BROOKONG FLOCKS, which are admitted to be unsurpassed in any of the Southern districts.

☞ RICHARDSON and WRENCH do not wish to add any comment of their own to the above brief outline of the Urangaline Station and Stock, as they believe that both the quality of the HO sheep and the enormous value and incretive nature of the run are too well known to require remark.

It need only be stated that the instructions from the trustees are positively to sell, to enable them to arrange the settlement of the estate of the late M

(Day of Sale—TUESDAY, 12th JANUARY, 1864.)

THE ASH ISLAND ESTATE,
RIVER HUNTER,
Beyond all doubt one of the very
FINEST AGRICULTURAL and HORTICULTURAL ESTATES in the AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.
Terms at Sale.

MORT and CO. have received instructions from the Honorable A. W. SCOTT, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the ASSEMBLY ROOMS, WATT-STREET, in the CITY of NEWCASTLE, at 11 o'clock, on TUESDAY, 12th January, 1864,
The greater portion of that TRULY MAGNIFICENT ESTATE known as ASH ISLAND,
comprising about 1560 acres of the RICHEST ALLUVIAL LANDS on the HUNTER RIVER, and distant only about
4½ MILES from NEWCASTLE.

This splendid property has been recently most carefully surveyed, and the portions selected for sale have been subdivided into 47 FARMS of from 10 ACRES to 35 ACRES EACH, several of which are ENCLOSED, CLEARED, and have FARM BUILDINGS upon them.

These farms comprise the rich lands on the river bank.

Among the many claims which the Ash Island Estate possesses, entitling it to be looked upon as one of the finest estates in the colonies, the following few are sufficient for the present purpose.

1. THE SOIL is composed of RICH ALLUVIAL deposit, and is capable of producing, to any extent, large and profitable crops of ALL KINDS OF FRUITS, the ORANGE being pre-eminent; of MAIZE, LUCERNE, OATS, ALL KINDS OF VEGETABLES, and COTTON—the growth of the latter being particularly vigorous.

2. It is also admirably adapted for the
the production of which has recently attracted much attention, and is likely to become one of our staple products for home consumption as well as exportation.

3. The FACILITIES of WATER and LAND CARRIAGE are as great as could possibly be wished for. The estate has a vast extent of frontage to the River Hunter, with any extent of deep water, to enable vessels to load direct from the spot. On the other hand, the GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY passes along the adjacent river bank, at the back of the estate, and secures the most perfect land carriage.

4. ITS PROXIMITY to NEWCASTLE (the second great shipping port of New South Wales), to East and West Maitland, Raymond Terrace, and Morpeth, and particularly ensures a ready market for all kinds of produce—further secured by the facilities for export to all the markets and imports of New South Wales and the adjacent colonies.

5. THE COAL.—From various experiments at different places, made by careful boring, coal of excellent quality has been invariably found, showing that the seam underlying the whole island would probably prove a good working one, and, from the position, well adapted for inexpensive shipment, no engineering difficulty existing, and deep water frontage along the river banks.

6. The estate is NOT LIABLE TO BE FLOODED—a very material feature to all who have had any experience of farming in this colony.

With these few facts before them, all who are in want of a farm, or a home for their families, are invited to avail themselves of the forthcoming opportunity.

PLANS on exhibition at the Rooms of Messrs. MORT and CO., Pitt-street, Sydney; also, at the Office of Mr. W. H. WEYTE, auctioneer and land agent, adjoining the Assembly Rooms, Watt-street, Newcastle, at both of which places every information can be obtained.

LITHOGRAPHS may also be had on application to Messrs. MORT and CO., Pitt-street, Sydney, and to Mr. WEYTE, Watt-street, Newcastle.

TITLE.—The property is being brought under THE NEW PROPERTY OR TORRENS' ACT, so that purchasers at the forthcoming sale can obtain their conveyances at a merely nominal cost.

7 YEARS' LEASE.
MAGNIFICENT GRAZING AND AGRICULTURAL FARM,
3200 ACRES
THE CONDELL PARK ESTATE.
NEPEAN RIVER.
Terms at sale.

MORT and CO. have been instructed to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 23rd December,
The lease, for seven years (from 1st January, 1864), of that very valuable property of 3200 acres, being the CONDELL PARK ESTATE, on the Nepean River.

This celebrated estate is about two miles from the Douglas Park Railway Station, the proposed new road from which station to Wollongong will materially enhance the value of the property. About 1650 acres have been subdivided into farms of from 50 to 400 acres each, and have been let to various tenants, and all the farms have been more or less under cultivation, having upon them the usual farm buildings. The leases will expire about January next, but can be renewed. The remaining portion of the property, consisting of about 1650 acres, has been occupied as a grazing run. Upon it are a very substantial stone dairy, with homestead adjacent.

DOUBLE BAY.
13 CHOICE VILLA SITES,
Fronting WILLIAM-STREET, MATILDA-STREET, and DOUBLE BAY.
Title—The Residue of 99 Years' Lease Point Piper Estate.
Terms at sale.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 23rd December,
13 CHOICE VILLA SITES, situate at Double Bay, and having frontages of from 46 feet to 100 feet, by depths of from 100 feet to 285 feet—more or less.
4 ALLOTMENTS, fronting WILLIAM-STREET.
9 ALLOTMENTS, fronting MATILDA-STREET.
On allotment 3, in Matilda-street, is a comfortable cottage, with galvanized iron roof; and allotments 6 and 7 have a large frontage to the beach of the Bay.

It is but seldom that land so advantageously situated as this is in the market for sale—in close proximity to some of the finest residences in that ne plus ultra of localities, there is perhaps no other land in the neighbourhood that can surpass it; the attention, therefore, of those desiring to secure a site is earnestly invited. The property is in the market for bona fide sale, and such an opportunity is not likely again to recur.

 To those who may seek to view the land, it is sufficient to inform them that it is bounded on the east by S. D. Gordon, Esq.'s palatial residence, and on the west by the choice selection of E. Flood, Esq.
Plan on view at the Rooms.

LIVERPOOL PLAINS.
SPLENDID NAMOI RIVER RUNS,
PILIGA AND MILCHOMI,
together with
4500 HEAD OF CATTLE, more or less.

Terms:—One-third cash deposit; residue by approved bills at one, two, and three years, with interest added at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, secured upon the stock and stations.

MORT and CO. have been instructed by the mortgagee to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on TUESDAY, 15th DECEMBER next,
That first-class cattle property, the PILIGA and MALCHOMI RUNS, in the Liverpool Plains district.

These valuable runs are MOST SPLENDIDLY WATERED, and they consist chiefly of OPEN MYALL COUNTRY, of the best fattening description.

PILIGA has ten miles' frontage to the left bank of the Namoi River, with a depth of about eight miles, and is joined at the back by MILCHOMI, which latter has eight miles' frontage to both banks of the Milchomi Creek.

They are surrounded by first-class runs belonging to Messrs. M'Kenzie, Orr, Evans, Campbell, Loder and Capps, Richards and Dangar.

THE IMPROVEMENTS upon Milchomi are a hut, two sheds.

With Piliga and Milchomi Runs will be sold the well known herd branded ☐, belonging thereto, and consisting of 4500 HEAD, MORE OR LESS,
The cattle are known to be QUIET and WELL BRED, and the purchaser can count UPON A COUPLE OF DRAFTS OF FAT CATTLE AT ONCE.

☞ It is not often that the opportunity occurs of securing a REALLY FIRST-CLASS FATTENING PROPERTY in this favourite district. The present, therefore, ought not to be lost sight of, more particularly as the EXTREME LIBERALITY OF THE TERMS
affords an unusual facility for purchasing combined with a better prospect for realising a really profitable investment.

The property can be strongly recommended, and inspection is invited prior to the sale.

50 ACRE FARM, DAPTO.
Title unquestionable. Terms at Sale.

MORT and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 23rd December,
A choice farm, situate at Dapto, containing 50 acres, more or less, adjoining Peter Howell's farm, and having a frontage to Dapto Creek. The greater portion of the land is cleared. It is all well fenced, and divided into convenient paddocks, and there are a substantial slab hut, and other improvements upon it.

 The farm was originally granted to William Fraser and is really a snug compact property, well suited for any one in search of a good farm.

Bligh District.
Prime Fattening Runs.

Terms—One-third cash deposit on the fall of the hammer; residue by buyer's own bills at 12 and 24 months, with 8 per cent. interest added from day of sale, all secured by a regular mortgage over the stock and stations.

R. FORBES has received instructions from Mr. T. H. Sinden, of Mudgee, to sell by auction, at the Exchange, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock on WEDNESDAY, 6th January, 1864,
Those first-class mud fattening squattages in the Bligh District, know as Pretty Plains, Carwell No. 1, Carwell No. 2, Warren Waterhole, Baker No. 2.

These valuable properties are splendidly watered, they enjoy a frontage of 22 miles to the Marthagay Creek, and one of the runs has a frontage to the Marthagay with a six mile frontage to the Merri Merri Creek.

The fame enjoyed by these stations and cattle is not alone known to every carcase butcher in this colony, but it extends to Gippe Land, in Victoria. The Murray and Murrumbidgee squatter knows right well the value of this herd. The Parroo squatter, and the Leviathan Fort Cooper squatter of the far north in the Leichhardt District, all combined, are ready at all times to purchase surplus cattle at the highest prices from these noted runs, both for breeding and fattening purposes.

The stations join those famous fattening properties of Robert Lowe, Esq., Messrs. Bennett, Gibson, and Jade, and they are only remote about 15 miles from Messrs. Wentworth and Christy's noted Macquarie establishments.

The improvements are in excellent order; there are four good dwellings on the various runs. There is a dam which cost £800; this was made to prevent the possibility of a failure of the water. There are stockyards, lanes, pens, branding yards, swinging gates, &c.

There will be a great many fat cattle fit for the Sydney and other markets at time of delivery.

☞ Here will be found an excellent sheep depasturing country, abounding in myall and saltbush, with wide-spreading choice plains

20 head of superior horses, broken to saddle and harness; also, one four-wheel coach, one strong spring-cart, with outrigger; one light spring-cart, with outrigger;
Together with several sets of double and single harness.

Sale at 11 o'clock.

SPLENDID FATTENING STATIONS,
Gwydir District, near Moree, known as Cumbadello, Nepickallion or Neopicalina, and Minna Minnane, having a frontage of about thirteen miles to the MEHI RIVER,
together with
7000 HEAD OF CATTLE (more or less).
A superior well-bred herd, to be mustered and delivered. Calves under six months old to be given in.

These splendid stations adjoin Messrs. Lloyd's Bumble Station, Bettington's Tycannah, J. Single's Tellaraga, Bucknell's Stations, Brown's Millie, and Pitt and Sullivan's Tyreel Stations. They are adapted for depasturing either sheep or cattle, are permanently watered by the Mehi River as well as by the Moonan, Bumble, and Warrengemba Creeks, and by numerous large lagoons and waterholes; and it may be safely stated that no better stations and stock can be found in the colony of New South Wales.

The Runs are only about half-stocked—in fact 10,000 sheep may be placed upon the river frontage without in any way interfering with the cattle.

The Cattle are very superior; they were a well-bred herd when purchased by the present proprietor from the late Mr. Bettington, and he has for upwards of ten years expended large sums of money in importing bulls and cows, and in clearing the herd of all inferior stock.

The Grazing Capabilities are very large—the runs being of great depth, and very extensive, with grasses of the richest fattening description.

It is estimated that the purchaser will be enabled to send at least 1500 head of Fat Cattle to market during the next few months, and none will be removed from the station prior to the sale. The quality of the cattle may be equalled, but not surpassed; and, as an evidence of the fact, they have always realised the highest rates in the markets.

Terms:—Very liberal: One-third cash; the balance by promissory notes in equal amounts, at one, two, and three years, dated from day of sale, with interest at the rate of nine per cent. per annum added, and secured by mortgage on the stock and stations.

MR. THOMAS CADELL has received positive instructions from Enoch Coberoft, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the Northumberland Hotel, West Maitland, on WEDNESDAY, the 16th December, 1863, at 12 o'clock,
All those splendid pastoral properties known as CUMBADELLO,
NEPICKALLION, and
MINNA MINNANE,
On the Mehi River.
Together with,
A superior well-bred herd of cattle (7000 more or less) to be mustered and delivered to the purchaser.

The country is of the very richest description—adapted for depasturing either sheep or cattle, being chiefly myall and box, open plains, large flats with salt-bush in abundance, and herbage of the most fattening kinds.

Sheep can be depastured in flocks of 2000 and upwards.

The herd has been improved by the introduction of a number of superior imported bulls and cows, as well as by a number of pure bred young stock, yearly sent from the proprietor's estate near Singleton.

There are about 100 well-bred young bulls now upon the station for sale.

The improvements comprise—
On Cumbadello:—A newly-erected house, boarded floors, shingled roof; garden with fruit trees, &c.; men's hut, yards, drafting and spaying yards, capable of working the entire herd. A large paddock—about 1500 acres: and a secure one of about 100 acres.
On Nepickallion:—yard, &c.
On Minna Mienane—Hut and weaning yard.
About 20 stock horses, team of bullocks and dray, furniture, tools, stores, and sundries, to be taken at a valuation in the usual way.

In directing general attention to this important sale, the auctioneer begs to remind intending purchasers of the numerous and extraordinary advantages possessed by this fine squatting property, viz:—The country being of first-class fattening description, permanently and abundantly watered, in the driest seasons; the herd equal, perhaps superior, to any other in the colony; the large number of fat cattle available for market; the fact of the stations being peculiarly adapted for sheep; that the runs are now paying better than perhaps any other cattle station in our northern and fattening districts; and the improvements of a substantial description.

The whole will be offered for sale positively on the day named, and, in the meantime, the auctioneer trusts that all interested will visit the station and judge for themselves.

Mr. Donahoe, upon the station, will afford all information required.

Queensland.

Cattle Station on the Logan River, known as TAMBOREEN,
together with 2500 Head of Cattle and 70 Horses.
Capabilities, 3500 head.

FATTORINI and CO. have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Sydney Exchange, on TUESDAY, the 15th day of December, 1863, at 11 o'clock sharp,
The above first-class station, known as Tamboreen, situate on the Logan River, Queensland, about thirty miles from Brisbane, and bounded on the north by the Albert River, on the south by a dividing range, on the west by Coonogara Creek, and on the east by the dividing range and river, and adjoining the well-known runs Coochin Coochin, Maroon, Gimboombe, &c.
Together with 2500 head, more or less, of mixed cattle, and 70 head, more or less, of horses.

The run consists of good open country all down the river and open ridges at the back; it is of a splendid fattening character, and is well watered by the Coonogara Creek and the Albert River, both being permanent.

The improvements consist of a good substantial cottage, with garden, and splendid stabling, three men's huts, paddocks, and stockyards complete, and a force water-pump.

Stores, working bullocks, stock horses, implements, &c., to be taken at a valuation in the usual way.

Three imported bulls, two imported cows with calves, and an imported entire horse, may be taken by the purchaser at the vendor's valuation.
